

HI, MY NAME IS REID

I was born in 2010... and have been diagnosed with Creatine Transporter Deficiency

Reid was diagnosed with x-linked Creatine Transporter Deficiency (CTD) at age 2-½ after searching rigorously for answers to his unexplained symptoms. He battles daily with muscular and movement disorders, global developmental delay, expressive language delay, intellectual disability, autistic behaviors, and seizures.

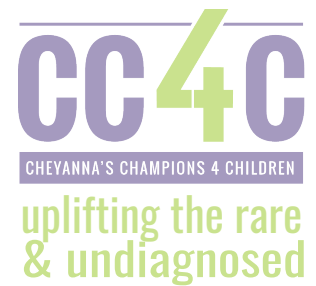

Reid's disease impacts the whole family as we struggle to cope with the long-term mental and physical effects. CTD is a rare, untreatable, disorder and one of three cerebral creatine deficiency syndromes.

He enjoys spending time with his family and playing outdoors. Reid loves riding his adaptive bike, swinging, and pool-time. He has recently embraced his assistive communication devices and we are seeing a vast non-verbal vocabulary emerge. This breakthrough in communication is profound and paving the way to better, more effective, relationships.
